Market Research Policy

- Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) Part 10 states that Market Research must be conducted:
 - Before developing a new requirements document
 - Before soliciting offers for acquisitions with an estimated value in excess of $100,000
 - Before soliciting offers for acquisitions with an estimated value less than the simplified acquisition threshold when adequate information is not available and the circumstances justify its cost; and
 - Before soliciting offers for acquisitions that could lead to a bundled contract (15 U.S.C.644(e)(2)(A)).

Market Research Policy

FAR - Part 7 Acquisition Planning

- FAR 7.102: Requires market research for all acquisitions; promotes and provides for acquisition of commercial items/services and full and open competition
- FAR 7.105: Requires Acquisition Plans to address extent, results, and impact of market research
- FAR 7.107: Requires market research to determine necessity and justification for bundling (“measurably substantial benefits”)

Note: Acquisition Planning includes sustainment activities.

Market Research Terms

- Market Research - A continuous process for gathering data on product characteristics, suppliers' capabilities and the business practices that surround them (customary terms and conditions, including warranty, buyer financing, and discounts under which commercial sales are made, etc.) - plus the analysis of that data to make acquisition decisions.
 - Includes:
 - Market Investigation
 - Market Surveillance/Intelligence

Market Research

- Use results to:
 - Determine if sources capable of satisfying our requirements exist
 - Determine if commercial items are available, or if not, are there nondevelopmental items that:
 - Meet agency's requirements
 - Could be modified to meet them, or
 - Could meet requirements if those requirements were modified to reasonable extent

Market Research

- Determine extent commercial items could be incorporated at component level
- Determine practices of firms engaged in commercial business:
 - Warranties
 - Buyer financing
 - Packaging
 - Maintenance
 - Marketing
- Ensure maximum use of recovered materials
- Assess availability of electronic and IT technology (AFWAY)

Terms & Definitions

- Market Investigation is a comprehensive survey of the market place to gather information in response to a specific contract requirement.
- Market Surveillance/Intelligence is an ongoing process and includes all the activities that acquisition personnel perform continuously to keep themselves abreast of technology improvements, product developments, and commercial business practices relative to their areas of expertise. Data gathered during Market Surveillance/Intelligence activities are very beneficial for tailoring operational requirements to take advantage of commercial item products and services which already exist in the market place.
